

What does it mean to fear God? Imagine if you were certain that every time you broke the speed limit, you would be caught and ticketed. Then you would “fear” the speed limits. That doesn’t mean you would be frightened of them. You would simply know that they are real and that they mean exactly what they say. You would drive accordingly. In the same way, fear God; know that He is all He says He is and will do all He says He will do. Live accordingly.
