

Reflection on Psalm 107

Imagine

all the times God has graciously intervened to rescue His people
in matters great and small.

Combine

all the stories in the Bible, all the stories from the thousands of years since Bible days, and all the millions of individual testimonies yet untold.

God saves people!

Not just from sin,

as vital as that is,

but from all that presses in on them:

illness,

danger,

physical need, and so much more.

That is the beautiful, triumphant message of Psalm 107.

Our God is

unfailing love.

Our God is

absolute dependability.

Our God is thoroughly, constantly good!

He has even turned death

into the doorway to

everlasting,

unbounded life.

All the times He saves us in this life are simply

a foretaste,

a down-payment on our full and final salvation yet to come.

Praise Him,

our Savior,

our Redeemer!
